

Home Network

A home network can eliminate many of the headaches in a multi-computer home, get everyone online at the same time, get your printers shared across your home network, even share your iTunes music over the network

Your home network can be wired or wireless , a wireless network give you the flexibility to use your laptop anywhere around the house, even in the garden.